Menominee Indian Tribe reports second case of COVID-19 within Menominee Indian Reservation

(Menominee Indian Reservation, WI) - Menominee Indian Tribe reports a tribal member positive case of COVID-19 within the jurisdiction of the Menominee Indian Reservation. The individual's positive test result was confirmed May 6, 2020.

The Menominee Tribe is following appropriate safety and health protocols recommended by our tribal, federal, state, and county public health officials. This includes public health officials contacting those people who may have had direct contact with the individual.

Menominee Tribal leaders continue to urge our tribal community members to take this COVID-19 public health crisis seriously. We have implemented many safety measures to protect our community and to mitigate and control the spread of COVID-19.

The Tribe's COVID-19 Response Incident Command continues to monitor the situation and coordinate operations in response to this positive case among the Menominee Tribe.

Now that COVID-19 is present within the jurisdiction of boundaries of Menominee Tribe, the importance of social distancing, wearing facemasks, washing your hands frequently, avoiding crowds, staying at home, all help to protect you and all your family members and friends.
